

Stories and Songs Ancient Melodies

"Somebody once called me a harpist with a golden voice. The description suits me. I play the harp, and love to sing. In fact, I've studied voice for years and can't hide it. I only hope it hasn't ruined my singing forever.

I took up harping over fifteen years ago, and have played at coffee shops, art galleries, family gatherings, cocktail parties, weddings, funerals, at some folk festivals; and have been generally well received! "

Hello,

Greetings from Corvallis, Oregon.

I play an Irish Folk Harp and have a couple hours of old world melodies, that I've played on many occasions. I'm wondering if I can play some for you.

I have a battery powered amp, with pickups and a mic, so I don't need to be near power. Just give me a spot that's protected from the sun and rain, and a party to play for, and I'm good to go.

“Conversation drops to awed whispers when Bob Hexem plays his harp.”
